

NEW MENACE IN RISING RIVERS THREATENS FLOODED DISTRICT

RAPID RISE OF RIVERS IN SOUTHERN VALLEYS OF OHIO AND INDIANA BRINGS NEW DANGERS TO FLOOD SWEEPED REGION

Dayton Loss of Life is Now Estimated at 800 Almost Entirely Confined to North Dayton Which is Inhabited by Foreigners and Laborers---In West Dayton, Riverdale and Daytonview and Other Residence Districts There Was Almost No Loss of Life.

With the situation somewhat alleviated in the flood-swept district of Ohio and Indiana, a new menace threatened tonight in the rise of rivers in the southern valleys of both states. At Cincinnati, the Ohio, swelled by its tributaries north and south, caused alarm and although the situation had not yet reached an acute stage, reports from neighboring Kentucky towns indicate that warning had been issued to the inhabitants to seek points of safety from the rising waters.

In Indiana alarm was felt in the valley of the Ohio, Wabash and White rivers, but ample warning served in a measure to reduce the panic. While no loss of life has occurred in the newly threatened districts, indications from Cincinnati are that conditions are becoming worse. At Covington, Ky., more than five hundred houses are under water.

At Dayton, O., Peru, Ind., and other cities recently flooded, today saw rapidly improving conditions, including further reductions in the death list, a rapid pouring in of supplies and strong measures against the depredations of looters and the interference of sightseers. Extensive explorations by boat throughout previously isolated sections of Dayton tend to confirm former estimates that the loss of life there would not exceed two hundred. This estimate was based upon observations by life-savers and newspapermen, but late reports from an assemblage of undertakers swelled the list to eight hundred. It was pointed out, however, that in many instances communities of residents who were supposed to have been drowned had made their way to safety. Indications also are that nearly all victims were drowned in North Dayton, the foreign settlement, and that few perished in the center of the city.

At Zanesville a cold wave aggravated the suffering but the death list totaled only four. At Chillicothe conditions were improved. The death list stood at eighteen. At Columbus, fifty-six bodies had been recovered from the waters and the coroner estimated the total number of victims at two hundred.

In southern Indiana, fear of a new flood was especially felt at New Albany, Evansville, Terre Haute and Vincennes. Ample warning, however, had been issued to those living in the threatened sections.

The known death list at Brookville totals sixteen with several missing.

In Illinois, Governor Dunne has been asked for troops to protect the levee at Shawneetown. The levee has broken near Petersburg but there has been no loss of life.

SOUTH DAYTON, O., MARCH 28.

Eight hundred dead is the average estimate of seven-eighths of Dayton's undertakers called together tonight for a conference. They reported 82 bodies had been recovered and now are at various places in the city.

Individual estimates of the undertakers were from 500 to 1,000, but the consensus of opinion was that 800 would be a conservative figure. Explorations of the several sections of the city today by newspapermen hardly would justify such an estimate.

Orders had been issued for all bodies to be brought to a general morgue established in a garage. This had not been heeded, as less than half the number of bodies found, according to the undertakers, had been brought there tonight.

A general call for all undertakers to meet was sent out by John H. Patterson, in charge of relief work, in an effort to have the work of recovering of bodies organized. Thirty undertakers were present and all said they based their estimates of the dead to a general survey of the situation.

Louisville life savers made a trip into Riverdale and North Dayton sections, where it was feared there had been great loss of life. They did not find a body, and said they believed few would be found. An expedition of Cleveland naval reserves brought practically an identical report.

And so large a part of the city had been explored and information obtained failed to bear out earlier estimates of great life loss the announcement of the undertakers came as a surprise to those most familiar with the situation.

Property loss, purely tangible and real, will probably reach $20,000,000. This includes damage to real-estate and public works in those parts of the city where these forms of property are most valuable, to automobile stores in two leading garages and other personal property, much of which was owned by the more prosperous residents, to manufacturing, mercantile and jewelers' stocks which were swept away, public utility plants and equipment, and it includes also the cost of rebuilding miles of asphalt streets and walks which were literally ripped from their beds. The loss of life is confined almost entirely to North Dayton, inhabited by foreigners and laborers. West Dayton, which comprises districts of a more substantial character, and to Riverdale, in Daytonview, and other residence districts there was almost no loss of life.

Several lives are known to have been lost in the business district but none of the rumors that human beings had perished in the fire which swept two city blocks would stand the test of searching investigation. In fact a score of cool-headed men who were in some of the buildings and others who watched the fire from across the street assert positively that every occupant of the burning buildings escaped. The flood assumed dangerous aspects early Tuesday morning before most people had started to work. Consequently the loss of life in Riverdale, North Dayton and West Dayton was occasioned when dwellings mostly of light construction were swept away and shattered by the swiftly moving current, leaving the occupants who had fled for safety in the second stories to fight for their lives in the water.

Many houses were moved from their foundations but remained upright and kept their occupants safely until they were rescued.

WEST DAYTON, O., MARCH 28.—Members of the United States life-saving crew of Louisville, who navigated along sections of flooded Dayton heretofore unexplored, returned today at noon, reporting conditions in North Dayton and Riverdale quite as deplorable as the first estimates concerning suffering of the people were concerned. The tour, however, failed to verify fears that there had been a tremendous death toll in that section.

In North Dayton privation among the marooned has been severe but actual suffering except among children was negligible. Cruising the southern end of Riverdale where it was feared there would be found a big death list, Captain Gillooly in charge of the crew, reported conditions paralleling those in other sections of the stricken city but only two dead bodies were reported to him as having been recovered from that district. The flooded territory in Riverdale, which is a section of substantial home owners, approximately is seventeen blocks long and seven blocks wide. After having descended the Miami river, Captain Gillooly reported that in the south central portion of Dayton where the flood flowed wildest Tuesday night and Wednesday, thousands of persons still were imprisoned in upper floors of their homes.

Loss Not Large as Reported. It is stated that from numerous inquiries among the people whose residences had been inundated, it appeared the life loss would not be nearly as large as it was placed by first reports.

This section still was flooded, although the water rapidly was receding and while a few corpses eddied out from the flood's edge, yet in the center of the area, it was stated that only two bodies had been seen.

Assisted by a representative of The Associated Press, Capt. Gillooly and his men distributed food and quantities of drinking water to a large number of the flood's prisoners. Arrangements also were made to provide the needy ones with the necessary supplies from time to time until the flood waters have gone.

The crew launched their big boat in the Miami canal, up which they cruised to Mad river, thence down Mad river to the Miami, and thence south to the Stuart street bridge, which is only a short distance from the National Cash register company's plant, where hundreds of refugees are receiving care.

At many points along the route, stops were made and the crew detoured away from the rivers. It was found many of these detours could be made afoot, the water having so rapidly fallen since last night.

At no place was the water behind the levees deeper than four feet. Preparations were made at several points to cut the levees in order to more rapidly drain the submerged district.

Chaos in North Dayton.

While the Louisville life-savers were making their cruise, Captain Hansen and a crew of life-savers from the Cleveland station were operating a number of boats in the heart of North Dayton, where a condition of veritable chaos exists. It was in that section lived many of the poorer class. Few of the buildings were substantial and when the fury of the Miami and Mad rivers' floods combined in a seething maelstrom, dozens of the residences succumbed. Two representatives of The Associated Press made a trip into North Dayton during the forenoon and saw more than a score of frame houses upturned and shattered long distances from where they originally had stood.

It is expected that the two life-saving crews will continue their operations tomorrow, although it is thought by that time the water will have subsided sufficiently to permit the exit of all persons now marooned.

Cut Levee in Three Places.

In Riverdale near the Main street bridge the levee was cut in three places today in an effort to drain that section of the city. When it is possible to clear away the debris there and make thorough searches of the houses, many of which were overturned and wrecked by the flood, additional dead may be taken out, but according to the most reliable information obtainable from dozens of men actively engaged in rescue work, and from the headquarters for the section now established at Van Cleave school on Forest avenue and Helena street, there are only about twenty persons still missing, and it is believed many of these escaped to homes in North Daytonview which was not affected by the flood.

Supply Water and Food.

In that section on the east side of the Miami river and north of the Mad river rescue work went forward today with two United States life-saving crews in charge. Hundreds of people living in upper stories and practically without food or water since Tuesday morning refused to leave their homes believing they would have a better chance for safety there than elsewhere. Water and food were supplied them. Hundreds of others had left their homes, in some instances effecting exits by chopping holes through the roofs. Very few of these have been accounted for. Most of those rescued in the district which is known as North Dayton, made their way to a Catholic College farther to the northeast which stands on high ground. Here they were cared for.

Central Morgue Established.

A central morgue has been established at the probate court building on Main street and as fast as possible identifications will be made. Many of the bodies thus far recovered, presented difficulties in the way of identification.

One woman, for instance was recovered from the west side, with the light clothing she had worn practically torn from her body, and her face disfigured. She was clasping in her arms a six months old baby. Another woman was found lying across a picket fence with the face so badly lacerated that it was thought her identification could not easily be made. She wore only night clothing and apparently was not yet out of bed when the levee broke. A report was circulated to day to the effect that an epidemic of typhoid fever and pneumonia had developed in Riverdale and West Dayton. It was ascertained, however, that not a well developed case of either disease was known in the sections mentioned, although there was considerable sickness among the refugees, particularly among the women and children.

ANALYSIS OF FLOOD CONDITIONS IN OHIO

CHICAGO, MARCH 28.—Alonzo Burt, vice-president of the Chicago Telephone company, tonight received by wire the following analysis of flood conditions in Ohio, compiled by E. A. Reed, general manager of the Central Union Telephone company at Columbus, where he has been directing relief work.

DELAWARE.—Without light, water and telephone service. City and country people who are not affected are relieving the local situation. No outside help needed at present.

WASHINGTON, C. H.—City slightly damaged and railroad and telephone facilities somewhat crippled. Sending relief to other places.

NEWARK.—Transportation, telegraph and telephone facilities crippled. People able to relieve their own suffering. Planning to send relief to Zanesville.

CIRCLEVILLE.—No suffering that cannot be relieved locally.

LANCASTER.—No flood conditions requiring outside help.

MANSFIELD.—Telephone and telegraph lines crippled and city without water and light, but these will be restored in twenty-four hours. No outside relief needed.

SIDNEY.—Merchants taking care of the people. Both reservoirs considered safe.

TROY.—Local people able to take care of the flood sufferers. Plenty of provisions.

CHILLICOTHE.—Flood conditions very bad. Five thousand people driven from their homes and 500 families need assistance. Provisions available for one day. Outside help needed, principally food. Money could probably be used more advantageously than supplies shipped from distant points.

LOGAN AND NELSONVILLE.—No help needed.

PIQUA.—Needs one additional company of militia east of the river to prevent looting and protect property. Supplies being forwarded daily from Greenville, Union City and Winchester, Ind., on the west and from Urbana on the east. Well organized citizens in charge of relief work.

FREMONT.—Some loss of life and property. Victims taken care of locally.

TELEFON.—Suffering being relieved by local citizens' committee and supplies being sent from Toledo.

OTTAWA.—Securing relief from Lima.

LIMA AND DEFIANCE.—Both cities able to take care of their own conditions.

LATEST BULLETINS OF CONDITIONS IN STRICKEN CITIES

TWENTY BODIES HAVE BEEN LOCATED IN PERU.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., MARCH 28.—Twenty bodies have been recovered or definitely located in Peru up to today and houses in Canal and Second streets, still flooded in the second floors, have not been explored, said Lieutenant Governor William P. O'Neill in a telephone message to the Associated Press here tonight. The Lieut. governor believes it altogether probable that more bodies will be found when the water has receded into the normal channel.

EIGHTEEN REPORTED DEAD AT CHILLICOTHE.

CHILLICOTHE, O., MARCH 28.—First authentic information regarding the loss of life shows that 18 persons are dead here. Already eleven bodies have been taken from the wreckage of homes in the east and where many many railroad men live. When field glasses were used seven more bodies were today discovered hanging in Kilgore Bridge, three miles south here, but it has been impossible to recover them. Conditions are much improved. The light plant has been able to resume service and the water supply also again is adequate. The estimated damage to property is $1,000,000. Clearing the wreckage has begun.

STAGE OF 54 FEET PREDICTED AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, ILL., MARCH 28.—The Ohio river tonight reached 48.2 feet and the local weather bureau predicts a stage of 54 feet. The Cotton Belt railroad is out of business at Birds Point, Mo., and the Iron Mountain at Hough station, Mo. Water is pouring through a breach in Roarks, Mississippi county, Mo. Refugees continued today to come into Cairo.

REPORT OF SIXTEEN DROWNED PROVES UNFOUNDED.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., MARCH 28.—Reports last night from Linton, Ind., that sixteen persons had been drowned at Howesville a town ten miles north of Linton, proved unfounded on investigation. While attempting to cross the Wabash river today in a row boat today Ed Leffner, Bud Showmaker and the latter's wife were drowned when the boat capsized in mid-stream.

MILITIA IN COMPLETE CONTROL AT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, O., MARCH 28.—No smoking is permitted anywhere in Hamilton as the city is without fire protection. The militia is in complete control of the situation and there has been no looting. Butler county prisoners have been ordered transferred to the Hamilton county jail at Cincinnati.

BODIES UNCOVERED AS WATER RECESSES.

CELEBIA, O., MARCH 28.—The waters have receded in Piqua and two score bodies have been uncovered. It is believed there are no other victims. This information is the first direct to reach here. A report from Troy by telephone was that a few if any lives had been lost there, although the town suffered great property loss.

DEATH LIST AT MIDDLETOWN REACHES FOURTEEN.

MIDDLETOWN, O., MARCH 28.—There are fourteen known to be dead here as the result of the flood. The property loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

CINCINNATI FACES WORST FLOOD IN HISTORY.

CINCINNATI, O., MARCH 28.—As the waters of the Ohio river con the flood waters from the tributaries east and north of here, this city is facing the worst flood in its history. Late to day the river stage was sixty four feet with indications that before many hours have passed the gauge would reach 70 feet almost the mark of 1884, the record year. Weather forecasters here tonight expressed conviction that during tomorrow the river which reached 68 feet and would go to 76 foot mark early thine to rise, increase in volume by next week, probably Monday.

VILLAGES REPORT KNOWN DEAD AT 22.

CINCINNATI, O., MARCH 28.—The known dead at the four villages of Harrison, Cleves, Valley Junction and New Bethlehem, at the mouth of the Great Miami, where it empties into the Ohio, is 22.

ALL HIGH WATER MARKS MAY BE EXCEEDED.

NEW YORK, MARCH 28.—The flood situation in this state continues to grow serious and the probability is that previous high water marks will be exceeded. No loss of life has been reported, but it is likely there will be great property loss.

RIVER STAGE HIGHEST EVER EXPERIENCED.

PITTSBURGH, PA., MARCH 28.—Via telephone from Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va., suffering from the greatest flood of its history, Parkersburg, W. Va., tonight expects a rise of two more feet. With a fraction over 56 feet tonight the additional water will cause a stage never before experienced there. Two persons have lost their lives. 1,000 are homeless, property damage exceeds $1,000,000 and one-third of the city is under from five to fifteen feet of water.

GREAT FLOOD IS SWEEPING DOWN OHIO VALLEY.

GALLIPOLIS, O., MARCH 28.—The most disastrous flood since 1884 is sweeping down the Ohio river valley. This city is the only dry city within 75 miles. Pomeroy, Middleport, Point Pleasant, Syracuse, Racine, Elfton and Mason City are all flooded.

SPECIAL ARRIVES AT COLUMBUS.—Chicago, March 28.—Word was received tonight by Colonel B. B. Ray, U. S. A., that the special sent from army headquarters here, consisting of 17 carloads of rations, had arrived at Columbus, O., at 2 p. m., from which point there will be local distribution of relief as the conditions require. The bread special which left later with 75,000 pounds of bread reached Toledo at 7:40 to night and was expected to arrive at Columbus by midnight.

ILLINOIS WON EASILY.

Chicago, March 28.—The University of Illinois easily won the third annual intercollegiate swimming meet here tonight at Northwestern University. The totals were: Illinois, 37; Wisconsin, 24; Northwestern, 19, and Chicago, 2.

EUREKA MEETS DEFEAT.

Bloomington, Ill., March 28.—The Illinois Wesleyan debating team defeated the Eureka college debating team here tonight 2 to 1. Wesleyan made the affirmative of a resolution for the recall of judicial decisions.

FALLS DOWN SHAFT.

New York, March 28.—Justice Henry Blachoff of the United States supreme court plunged eleven stories down an elevator shaft to his death this afternoon in the Immigrant Savings bank building, where he had of meet here tonight at Northwestern University.

STRICT MARTIAL LAW AT WEST INDIANAPOLIS

ADDITIONAL COMPANIES OF MILITIA WILL HELP HANDLE SITUATION

All Persons Are Excluded From the Flood Districts Until Thorough Organization Can Be Completed Against Vandalism.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., MARCH 28.—Constantly tightening guard lines thrown about West Indianapolis today are shutting out all persons from the flooded districts but the state troops and local police are not in sufficient numbers to handle the situation and Governor Ralston will attempt to have two additional companies of militia in the city tonight.

Even refugees are being excluded from the flood districts of West Indianapolis until thorough organizations may be completed to insure the exclusion of vandals. Brig. Gen. Charles A. Girard reported to the governor after all night in the flooded portions of the city, saying that the forces there must be doubled to furnish adequate protection and he said that conditions are little improved since yesterday.

Sixteen Bodies Recovered.

Sixteen bodies were found in Brookville and six still were missing to day. The flood struck the town Monday night with such violence that all wires were swept away and bridges were washed out, and no communication was had with the outside world until a courier to day took definite reports into Connersville following a rapid fall in the flood tide. Peru rescue workers report that the death list there will not exceed twenty five some believe it will be less. No bodies were found in West Indianapolis after a diluvial all day search, but rescue workers assert that they saw a number drowned and swept away down the river. Receding waters left West Indianapolis covered with mud filth and in great danger of disease epidemics.

Authorities in Wrangle.

City authorities clashed over the admission of the public to that section of the city and the board of health acting under extensive powers conferred by a law passed by the recent general assembly had Mayor Shank rescind picket lines. All persons except relief workers are to be kept out of the flood districts until good sanitary conditions are established. Railroad and interurban facilities both paralyzed by the flood, were improved during the day and ample supplies can be sent to all stricken districts. Stirred to fear by the catastrophes in other Indiana cities the newly threatened Southern cautions against rising waters of the Ohio and other rivers, and persons in all danger districts have had ample warning of a possible record breaking mark.

Alarm at River's Rise.

New Albany and Evansville citizens were especially alarmed at the continued rise of the Ohio and all movable were being carried to places of certain safety. Four drownings were reported from Terre Haute where the Wabash river continues rising. Vincennes is said to be in great danger but all reliable communication with that place has been cut off. Indiana's worst danger now lies in a wave of disease that may follow the floods.

Government health authorities are reaching the northern Wabash Valley from Chicago, and Dr. C. O. Cobb, surgeon general of the marine hospital at Chicago with a staff of assistants, will aid state and city authorities.

Normal Conditions Soon.

Water service was resumed in Indianapolis this afternoon with warning issued that the water must not be used for drinking of food purposes unless boiled. Street car service was restored on all lines except those cut off by washed out bridges, and conditions will be almost normal again soon.

The flood death toll remains uncertain tonight with all reports confirming more conservative estimates of the loss of life, while panic is attacking the southern valleys of the White and Wabash rivers and all along the Ohio as rising waters threaten repetitions of the up state horrors. Sunshine and disappearing waters relieved sufferers in the cities that have been flooded and authorities in charge of various localities face a great problem in fighting off disease before the insistent demands of the refugees that they be permitted to return to their devastated homes.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES.

Washington, March 28.—Forecast for Illinois: Cloudy and warmer Saturday; Sunday unsettled weather.

SHAWNEETOWN LEVEE THREATENED BY OHIO

River is Rising and is Within Foot and Half of High Water Mark

WILL RUSH SUPPLIES

Governor Dunne Will Have Supplies Sent for Use in Case Levee Should Break

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MARCH 28.—Governor Dunne tonight directed Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson to be prepared to rush to Shawneetown, on short notice, tents, clothing and supplies for those who will be rendered homeless in case the levee which protects the city from the flooded Ohio river breaks.

Early tonight the governor received a telegram from D. E. Froelicht and John McElligott, citizens of Shawneetown, stating that the situation was desperate. Later the governor talked over the long distance telephone with Sheriff W. F. Clayton who declared there was no immediate danger. According to Sheriff Clayton the levee is a foot and a half of the high water mark.

Arrangements had already been partly made to send two hundred tents to Shawneetown when communication between the city and Springfield was established and upon advice of Sheriff Clayton, it was decided not to send the tents unless requests were made by local authorities.

Late in the fall about two hundred tents were sent by the state to Shawneetown to house flood victims. These tents are still in Shawneetown and are now available, and Adjutant General Dickson directed Sheriff Clayton to make use of them.

In the opinion of Sheriff Clayton, who is taking charge of the work of protecting the levee in the absence of the mayor from the city, assistance will be badly needed within a day or two unless the floods rapidly recede.

Many of the residents have moved to higher ground northwest of town, and all are making preparations to meet conditions as well as possible, in events the levee breaks.

GOV. COX'S STATEMENT.

COLUMBUS, O., MARCH 28.—In a statement issued tonight, Governor Cox says:

"The people in most of the flooded districts are getting their feet on the ground. The recession of the waters in Dayton today marked the first steps toward the rehabilitation of the city. Expert engineers have been engaged for the purpose of reconstructing the Gem City.

"While Columbus has much suffering the devastated area is confined to the west section. Her business interests are intact.

"The subsidence of the waters develops considerable uncertainty as to whether the loss of life has been over-estimated or the bodies in many of the Ohio cities have been washed away. Heroic measures have been necessary in many parts of the state and edibles have been confiscated everywhere. Two carloads of eggs were seized in railroad tracks at Springfield. They were routed to some point in the south but were immediately turned over to the committee in Dayton. Careful invoice is, of course, made in every case of confiscation.

"When communication was resumed with outskirts of Zanesville today, the statement was made that three hundred houses washed away with their inmates.

"The report from the militia in Hamilton is that 91 lives have been lost at that place. Martial law has been declared. A holiday of ten days has been proclaimed in all of the stricken districts in order that commercial obligations at banks can be legally held in suspense.

"At the refuge points in the west side in Columbus in the last forty-eight hours, one hundred babies have been born. Some have died of exposure."

WOMEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Unity, Sask., March 28.—Mrs. John Henderson, an elderly woman, the wife of a farmer living seven miles northeast of here, and her daughter, Viennetta, aged about 25, were burned to death today through the destruction of the farm house by fire. The men of the family were at some distance away, and were unable to reach the house in time to save the women.

RAILROAD MAGNATE DEAD.

Philadelphia, March 28.—James McCreary, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, died at his home in Haverford tonight.

A LOAF OF BREAD

To Some People Means a Certain Number of Ounces of Dough Put in a Pan and Baked

To us it means this: A food product that should represent the highest possible standard of quality. Time was, when people only bought bread when there was no time for baking at home. But in the past few years there has been a growing sentiment in favor of "buying bread." We believe that the Ideal Bakery is largely responsible for this change in our city and community and attribute the growing demand for our product to the following facts:

We employ only thoroughly competent bakers.
We use only one of the highest grade spring wheat flours on the market: "Ethen Allen."
We wrap our loaves in moisture proof and germ proof waxed wrappers.
As a result of this you have:

NEW MENACE IN RISING RIVERS THREATENS FLOODED DISRICT

dren, due to privation. Three deaths from diphtheria were reported in other sections by Secretary of Health Board Miller. Representatives of The Associated Press made their way in rowboats and canoes through all of Riversdale, North Dayton and West Dayton. This was the first time that it was possible actually to penetrate these districts. While conditions are deplorable the people remaining in their houses were not actually suffering to any considerable degree and no dead bodies were to be seen anywhere. For the most part the residents have been taken out by rescuers.

Camps Being Set Up.
In a number of places throughout the city camps have been established and families have set up house keeping tents, cooking in the open over bon-fires.

Perilous trips around the coping of burning buildings with the yawning water of the flood below them, marked the escape of thirty-four men, women and children from the flames that destroyed the structures on the north side of Third street from Jefferson to St. Clair Tuesday night.

When the alarm of fire was raised persons in the buildings rushed to the windows to seek aid in the streets below. None was available and driven by the flames the refugees retreated from the east and west toward the Cooper Building in the center of the square forcing their way through attic hatchways and climbing over roofs and around copings. In this manner the Cooper Building became the common place or refuge. Huddled in on both sides, a way out was now sought across Third street. Harvey Kirkbride organized the men. Under his direction one of the party was let down with a rope to the water. He swam to the opposite side, fastened a rope to a street stair case and then signalled his comrades behind.

Supporting the women and children the men let themselves from the Cooper building and struggled through the torrent swept street to the other side. The stairs led to safety on the upper floors. Thence the entire 34 made their way to an alley across it to a place of safety. There they remained until Thursday, when they were rescued.

Loss Not Over 200.
South Dayton, O., March 28.—The loss of life in Dayton by flood will not be more than 200.

This was the general agreement here to day after government life saving crews had penetrated every part of the water-bound city. Up to the present forty-five bodies have been recovered. Twenty of these were in Riversdale, fifteen in West Dayton, five in the business section and five in the South Side residence section.

Three deaths from diphtheria were reported to day and there is fear of an epidemic.
Charles Potter, his wife and six children were drowned to day while attempting to escape from their wrecked home. The wagon in which they were being conveyed to a place of safety overturned and all lost their lives.

Situation in Excellent Shape.
Cincinnati, O., March 28.—Reports received from many of the flooded towns and districts are to the effect that the food situation was in excellent shape and that plenty of provisions have been received. From Dayton the greatest sufferer, a report reached the committee that no more provisions were needed for the present. A little more than $70,000 already has been contributed here for the relief of the flood sufferers in the Miami Valley according to a report made to day to the members of the general relief committee by Treasurer Armelider. Contributions made by nearly all the states in the union are arriving in each mail that manages to get through the flooded districts, and by telegraph.

Will Require Months of Work.
Dayton's period of reconstruction will run into months, according to engineers just returning from the flood districts. Disposition of dead animals and the disinfecting of thousands of submerged homes presented the most pressing problem.

Effects of the strict martial law were to be seen on all sides. Only in extraordinary circumstances were pedestrians permitted upon streets after six o'clock. Reports of looting in some sections of the Central Dayton district persisted but it was believed raiding was restricted to isolated instances. One man who was said to have filled several suit cases with jewelry was arrested. Reports that several looters had been shot could not be confirmed.

Supplies Coming In.
Supplies reached Dayton in large quantities late today. The relief stations were sufficiently organized to take care of the incoming refugees from the flood districts. The problem of caring for the homeless still was serious but with the promise of warm weather it was hoped there would be less suffering from first was threatened. Health officers report that there is only one car of lime in the city and there is great need of more.

Explanation of Report.
One explanation of first reports that thousands had perished was to be found in the fact that it was Dayton's first big flood. Few of the foremost among relief workers realized that persons under stress and borne up by hope of rescue might survive for several days upon limited rations. Another reason was the circumstance that scores of persons were in their homes when the flood was almost upon them, were given up for dead. The chance that they had escaped at the last moment and take refuge in places temporarily cut off was not taken into consideration. An illustrating instance of this was shown at the offices of the relief committee. A city patrolman who had been on duty at Main and Vine streets and who had seen a woman and her son blown through the roof of their home by a gasoline explosion reported that he was sure no less than 10 persons would be found in cottages overwhelmed by the deluge in that neighborhood. The policeman stuck to his story until a citizen happened in and declared he had seen all residents of that district wade out in water that reached to their necks.

Thousands Are Freed.
With the receding of the water thousands of persons who have been penned in their homes were freed either by going to higher ground or by the water disappearing from with their homes. Nine thousand have been taken off in boats and of this number 1,000 are being taken care of in relief stations. Now that work of gathering the death victims has been systematized, it is expected bodies will be brought in more rapidly. Notwithstanding estimates of undertakers it is thought the work of ascertaining accurately the number of dead will not be as difficult as heretofore believed. It is known, however, that some bodies floated down the river and will never be recovered. The crush of the currents has claimed the greatest toll of lives judging from how most of the bodies recovered have been found. They have been washed up on to the ground from new made rivers and many have been found buried in the debris. The body of an infant a day old was found in a gutter. The body of a man about 70 years old and identified only as Snyder, was found clasped in the arms of his dead wife.

Marooned in Hotel Building.
Three hundred persons who had been marooned in the Algonquin hotel in the heart of the flood district moved from their prison today after the waters along Main and Third streets had receded. There was one death in the hotel, Johnny Flynn, a bell boy. While approximately 3,500 persons are being cared for by the relief committee, there are more than 50,000 homeless persons in Dayton, who are caring for themselves the best they can. None of the banks are open for business and for the most part the refugees had little or no money with them when the flood came upon them. All the grocery stores and food supply houses have been taken over by the militia and there are no fresh meats, eggs or milk available at any price. The city is without means of general transportation, there is not an electric light in the place except those of the National Cash Register company. There is no adequate water supply, the sewer system is ruined, the available fuel supply is limited and the supply of natural gas used for cooking has been shut off since Tuesday.

Many on Verge of Hysteria.
Huddling together in groups about the streets and those localities where the waters sufficiently have subsided in front of their ruined homes, the people stand during the day with despair stamped on their set faces. So great has been the mental strain that many persons are bordering on hysteria. In the bread lines in front of the relief stations each day stand business and professional men side by side with day laborers. There are no class distinctions.

In every church and school house not seriously affected by the flood is to be found hundreds of persons living together, cooking their frugal meals over open fires and sleeping outdoors.

On South Main street many boats were engaged for long hours in rescuing those marooned in their homes along that thoroughfare. In one little cottage two women, one of whom was 81 years old, were found huddled in the attic. Their water supply was exhausted Wednesday afternoon and they had had no food since the breakfast they ate a few minutes before the waters came rushing upon them.

Piqua, O., March 8.—Early estimates of death in Piqua dwindled to fifty tonight after scores of missing ones believed to have been drowned reported to the relief committee. Two hundred and fifty houses are in ruins and at least 2,500 persons are homeless. The residence district known as East Piqua was devastated and many persons there, trusting to the high levee which was thought unbreakable, stayed in their homes until too late to escape.

The identified dead: Albert Becker, Mrs. Clarence Dillon, James Gillard, Isaac Karns, Mrs. Sarah Wolford, Miss Ida Thompson, Miss Georgia Slosser, George Sublett, Mrs. Louise Pohendorf.

Piqua suffered great property loss. Troy, Ohio, reports 90 dead and 50 houses down. Sidney, O., escaped fatalities.

Recover Sixty Bodies.
Columbus, O., March 28.—The gues of Columbus filled up slowly tonight as the swollen waters of the Scioto gradually receded. The number of bodies recovered from the yellow flood reached sixty.

Through the temporary morgues hundreds of shivering survivors passed, dreading to find their missing loved ones. Twenty-three bodies lay in a temporary morgue on the east bank of the Scioto and twenty more placed in a recently constructed fire engine house on the hill top just west of the flood district.

In the west side morgue the flood had cut off all electric power and the volunteer undertakers worked by the light of flickering candles and lamps. Several bodies lay in small undertaking shops in various parts of the city. The reports reached Columbus tonight that several bodies had been seen floating in the river at Circleville, 25 miles below here. The authorities believe these were victims of the Columbus flood and that many of those lost will never be recovered.

Thousands Are Rescued.
While bodies were picked up wherever found during the day the energies of the authorities were directed toward rescuing the thousands marooned in upper stories on roofs and in trees.

Four miles along the swollen river there are great drifts of debris. Practically all of the bodies recovered have been taken from the edges of these drifts as the waters recede and the authorities believe that many more are buried in the debris. No attempt can be made to search these drifts until the water subsides. With this in view Coroner Benkert tonight said the death list would reach 200. Relief measures were rushed today and by night the various relief agencies had the situation well in hand. At the state insane asylum and the state institution for the feeble minded hundreds of survivors were fed, clothed and lodged. A large school building nearby was filled with cots and supplies and thrown open to the refugees. Hundreds were brought around the flood to the business section where relief stations were opened.

Families are Separated.
Great distress among the survivors was caused by the separation of families and the consequent dread that the missing had been drowned. Since the rescue work, nearly one hundred children of the flood have been born. Tonight the authorities opened a maternity hospital where the new mothers among the survivors, with their babies were taken and cared for.

When the motorboat rescuers were forced to suspend their work by darkness, half a score of blocks in the worst of the flood had not been reached. In the upper floors of houses in this district were many survivors, who had been without food since Tuesday. An effort will be made tomorrow to reach this section. The river fell gradually during the day with no indications of further high water.

RECALLS HIGH WATER IN JACKSONVILLE FIFTY YEARS AGO

Amos Henderson Tells of Trip to St. Louis on Skiff Launched on Brook.

About fifty years ago this time of year Morgan county was visited by a season of very high water. The brook was so high that Amos Henderson and Harrison Allen conceived the idea starting upon it for a trip to St. Louis. The boat they used was a skiff built the winter before in the shop of Cyrus Sanderson, located back of the old opera house on South Main street. They set out out amid the howls of several hundred men and boys who had gathered to see the strange sight, floated on down into the Maudville and spent the first night near Naples. Their second night was spent at Campsville locks on the Illinois and their third at their destination, St. Louis. The two men then shipped back their boat and returned by rail.

The skiff was built for hunting and fishing trips and was often used by Messrs. Allen, Henderson and Sanderson along with another friend, Fielder McKay, for trips on the Illinois and Sangamon. Harrison Allen, at that time a mature man, though still active, was accustomed to spend a good deal of his time in trapping muskrats, raccoons, opossums, and other animals, and seemed always ready for an adventurous project of any kind. The others mentioned often accompanied them.

S. A. Fairbanks remembers being present as a boy at the launching of the boat. The current is described as very rapid and full of driftwood as there were then no obstructing fences to catch floating limbs and logs. The high water was caused by the melting of a deep snow followed by a long season of spring rains.

WHITE SLAVERS ARE MENACE TO OMAHA

UNDER GUISE OF RELIEF WORKERS YOUNG GIRLS ARE TAKEN IN

Detectives and Militiamen are Busy Working Against These Dangerous Persons and are Protecting Girl Refugees as Much as Possible.

OMAHA, NEB., MARCH 28.—White slavers menaced the peace of Omaha today for the first time since Sunday's tornado. They were discovered taking in refugees in the stricken district and the detective force of the city was put to work at once rounding up suspects. Some of them became so bold as to represent themselves as relief workers and began taking young girl refugees into homes which apparently had been furnished to attract white slave victims. Two women and one man were arrested this afternoon. They are believed to have come from Chicago.

At noon the central relief committee of these dangerous persons in the city, almost abandoned its relief work for a few hours to take time to meet the new danger. A meeting was held immediately and detectives and militiamen put to work on the case. The committee also faced the question of preventing alleged victims securing unnecessary supplies. One woman was discovered to have secured five automobile loads of supplies from as many stations. A checker was at once put to work and steps were taken to supply those who registered and then only from the station located in the district in which the sufferers were located.

Additional tents arrived today and those who have not been provided with better homes will be housed in tents for the present.

Appeals for funds for relief of tornado victims continue to pour in but the relief committee sees necessity for a great deal more money and is making additional appeals for outside assistance.

Four hundred tents and 1,000 blankets were received by Major Hartman, commanding the federal troops on duty in the city, from the government depot at St. Louis.

One more body was reported found in the north part of the city but it has not been identified.

The relief committee was given an illustration of universal brotherhood in times of misfortune when a Chinaman who declined to give his name handed in $120 with this note:

"In token of sympathy with tornado sufferers from the Omaha Chinese."

Vanishing Seamen.

It used to be seamen. Now it is steammen. The change suits to a "t." The old time sailor has nearly vanished. Steam has put him out of the running. If a new Sir Joseph Porter were to come from the imagination of some new librettist he would no longer be told of gifted sailors "who could handle, reef and steer or ship a salvagee." There will be no present day Aillingham to chant the glories of "the wet sheet and the flowing sea and the wind that follows fast to bend the willow mast," for there are no longer sheets and masts enough to inspire his muse. For the matter of that, the entire song has gone out of sea life. When men "tripped anchors" and did it by manning a capstan and bending their backs rhythmically to the job, as the mate sang chants to them, music counted as an exhilarant, but now steam winches lift the anchors and what would be the sense of singing to a mass of iron and steel?—Cleveland Leader.

Trees and Lightning.

The relation of trees to lightning, as shown by a bulletin of the United States forest service, does not wholly accord with popular beliefs. It is found that trees are the objects most often struck because they are the most numerous of all prominent objects, they offer a short course to the ground, and their spreading branches in the air and roots in the soil present an ideal conductor to the ground. Any kind of tree may be chosen by the lightning, the greatest number in any locality being found among the dominant species. The likelihood of any tree being struck is increased if it is taller than surrounding trees, is isolated, is on high land, is deeply rooted and if its condition—as when wet—makes it the best electrical conductor of the vicinity at the time of the flash. Lightning may set a forest fire by igniting the tree or what is much more likely to be the case—the humus about the base.

First Recorded Alimony.

An Egyptian mummy now on exhibition in London was wrapped in papyrus which scholars have found to be covered with inscriptions. Among others is one which indicates that at least one lady of the pharaonic period failed to agree with her life partner. The document is a petition to the proper authorities for justice against a spendthrift and abusive husband. "When I married Heracleides," writes the petitioner, "I brought 200 drachmas as a dowry. Besides this, my husband, when he lost his property, found a home in the house of my parents. In spite of this, Heracleides, after he had run through my dowry, cursed me, beat me, deprived me of the necessities of life, wickedly deserted me and left me in misery. I pray you to force him to appear before you and to cause him to return to me the dowry I gave him increased by half."—New York American.

BLOOMINGTON, MARCH 28.—Bloomington to day wired $687 to the National Red Cross for flood relief. A benefit concert will be given Sunday afternoon with scores of contributions being received daily. It is expected that Bloomington will contribute $2,500 for relief.

HONOLULU, T. H., MARCH 28.—Five thousand dollars for the flood sufferers in Ohio was cabled from here tonight to Governor Cox. The legislature took steps to day to legalize an appropriation of $5,000 each for Ohio and Indiana and it is expected this sum will be available tomorrow.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MARCH 28.—A total of $2,000 has been sent up to date by Commissioner George Coe, chairman of the local relief committee as Springfield's donation to the flood sufferers. Of this amount $256 was given by city hall employees and $550 by state house employees. Secretary of State Wood's was the heaviest contributor, giving $200.

Illinois Legislature appropriations $100,000.

J. H. Holbrook, Springfield, Ill., $500.

INTERESTED IN PERU, IND.

Mrs. John A. Ayers is much interested in the flood developments at Peru, Ind. It was her home before marriage, and her brother, Mr. C. H. Brownell, still resides there. No word has come from him, although this is not supposed to argue danger to him. Mr. Brownell is one of the most prominent business men of Peru, and has large interests there. Mrs. Ayers has also other friends there, for whom she is concerned.

RETURN FROM THE SOUTH

Mr. and C. L. French have returned from a somewhat extended stay in the south and are again at their West State street home. Mr. French said yesterday that their trip homeward was delayed a great deal because of the high water. They were held five days longer in Pensacola than they wished on account of flooded conditions. After leaving that city they traveled for miles through water reaching up to the second step of the coach. Travel is greatly impeded all through the south and passengers are marooned in a number of small towns with no chance of getting out until the water recedes.

Turks First Canned Tobacco.

Tobacco was first carried into Turkey by English sailors, and its use was quickly prohibited. As in Russia, a tradition was discovered prohibiting its use by the faithful. Mohammed, it was said, had prophesied that in future ages some of his followers would smoke a herb called tobacco, but these would be unbelievers. Sultan Amurath IV. strictly prohibited its use. Search was made for smokers. Tobacco pipes were driven through their cheeks, and rolls of tobacco hung as collars around their necks. Thus arrayed they were mounted on asses, facing the wall, and driven through the streets as a warning to lusters after tobacco to be hanged.—New York Sun.

Euphemisms For Death.

"Decease" is now a regular form of word for death. But it began as a gentle euphemism, "decease" (departure) seeming much less harsh to the Romans than "mors." All languages abound in euphemisms of the kind, which go back to a superstitious reluctance to mention death plainly that gradually passed into a kindly desire to soften the idea. "Passed away," "departed," "gone," "expire" breathe out, "no more," "decease" and even "the late" are expressions of this nature. Most striking of all is the Roman euphemism for "he is dead," "vixit" he has lived.

A Sap to Her Conscience.

Charles F. Southmayd in dying left $100,000 to the bar association of the city of New York, the income to be used for the purchase of books. This will be a great aid to many of the younger attorneys.

At a recent primary election held in Barry there were 58 candidates and only 128 votes cast. The primary was a farce, and hundreds of non-voting citizens are talking of the character of the candidates nominated, one of whom they must support, if they vote at the regular election.

Farmers were never so busy dragging roads as this year, when the weather permits. As soon as the mud commences to dry they are out with the drags working down the roads. There is no question but what the highways can be wonderfully improved by the use of the drag and can be kept in good condition most of the year.

An old time Chicago politician, trained in the school of red fire ward meetings, complains that the "movies" have put ward meetings into the discard. "If you want to reach the voters now, you have to stop them on the street, call on them at their homes, or catch them at odd hours in the factories and stores," he says. This is the latest kick and comes from an unexpected source.

A Massachusetts man has invented a traction plow which works back and forward across one side of a field. In team plowing and machine plowing much time is spent at the ends of the field in turning about. With this new invention on reaching the end of the furrow the engine is reversed, the plows lifted from the ground, reversed and the start back is begun with the loss of scarcely any perceptible time. It takes a Yankee to invent something by which he can escape hard work.

The New York Zoological society is endeavoring to have incorporated in the proposed new tariff law a provision forbidding the importation of feathers or parts of birds, except for scientific or educational purposes. This would stop the use of plumes, feathers and skins of many of the most beautiful and curious birds of the world as hat adornments, and, consequently, the slaughter of the birds, which threatens the extinction of many species and often causes suffering, as in the case of starvation of egret nestlings through the slaughter of the parents birds.

While it was claimed the first flying machine was produced in this country, there is an increasing lack of interest in its development here, as compared with that in other countries. The British army now has machines which have beaten 80 miles an hour and which also are able to reduce their speed to 40 miles an hour. An army biplane recently passed all tests at an average speed of 91 1/2 miles an hour. England will have 148 aeroplanes by next May, but has deliberately rejected large airships as being useless for war purposes.

Over one-half of the children examined by a medical board in the public schools of St. Louis have been found to be physically defective. Of 6,447 children examined, 3,880 were found deficient. Of this number, 2,378, or considerably more than half, were found to have defective teeth. Defective eyes were next, 265; defective teeth and eyes, 292; enlarged tonsils, 255; teeth and tonsils, 225; teeth and noses, 55; teeth, eyes and throat, 41, and teeth, nose and throat, 32. Communicable diseases discovered in ten weeks totaled 223. These were: Pediculosis, 62; mumps, 28; chickenpox, 28; ringworm, 24; diphtheria, 8, and measles, 8. No cases of small pox and but three cases of tuberculosis were discovered. Non-communicable diseases to the number of 1,085 were found.

WHEAT AND MEAT.

Figures from the bureau at Washington show that this country is falling behind its own needs in the production of wheat, and that during eight months of the fiscal year, ending February, 1913, we exported 12,656 head of cattle and imported 220,000 head. And the showing is improved but very little when we come to figures on fresh meat. The bureau points out that these figures were turned about at a period as late as six years ago. This should appeal to all farmers of the United States to lend a hand in producing more meat. A good deal of the welfare of this country, its future, is in the hands of the farmers; when they realize this as they should they will appreciate the importance of heeding the appeal made to them to grow more wheat, and raise more cattle.

AMERICAN LABOR.

The new secretary of commerce and labor is the capitalist and manufacturer who startled the country during the tariff debates by declaring that American labor is the cheapest labor in the world. Economists have known this for a long while. R. R. Bowker, in a popular book on the subject, "Economics for the People," devotes nearly a chapter to explaining how goods can be produced more cheaply by high priced American labor than by low priced foreign labor. The mistake made was by figuring the cost of production by the price paid to the worker. Looked at in this light, American labor leads the world. Yet in ultimate cost it is the lowest. The reason is that American labor produces more per dollar of investment than the low priced labor of Europe or even of Asia.

Secretary Redfield gave life to this economic fact by bringing to it actual illustrations gained in his experience as a manufacturer and a competitor with foreign producers.

DANGERS OF THE ELEMENTS.

The disaster at Dayton, where flood and fire has combined in the destruction of one of our great cities, emphasizes the uncertainty of the elements and our incapacity to guard against its terrors. The trouble may be an earthquake in San Francisco; it may be a volcano on the opposite side of the world; it may be an unseen iceberg in mid-ocean; it may be a Galveston tidal wave, or it may be a tornado such as swept Nebraska and other states, claimed a death toll of many people, injured fully one thousand persons and damaged property valued at $10,000,000. For generations the district had slept peacefully in the belief that the cyclone which is so common in some of the western states, would not reach it. This was due, it is claimed, to the old Indian prophecy handed down for centuries that Omaha was immune from high winds. Resting in this feeling of safety Omaha has not taken the precautions against danger that some other cities have taken and it is said that the $10,000,000 loss is covered by little more than $500,000 tornado insurance. Jacksonville has always had that same feeling of security regarding cyclones, believing that the mound serves as a shield. It is hoped we may not be mistaken in our belief.

RAILWAYS AND AGRICULTURE.

"Railways and Agriculture from 1900 to 1910," is the topic of a bulletin recently issued by the bureau of economics, which bureau has been established by the railways of the United States for the scientific study of transportation problems. It reports that during the last census decade the miles of main track of the railways increased at nearly double the rate of increase in improved farm land, and at three times the rate of increase in the area devoted to crops. Measured in the aggregate, the output of the railways—ten miles and passenger miles—increased 80 per cent and 102 per cent respectively, while the output of the ten principal crops averaged an increase of about 9 per cent.

While the railway output per mile increased 40 per cent and 56 per cent respectively, the output per acre of the ten principal crops averaged a decrease of about 1 per cent. Measured per one thousand inhabitants, the output and the revenue of the railways—that is, the work performed and money received—increased at very nearly the same ratio. The output of five of the ten principal crops, however, measured per one thousand inhabitants, decreased from 5 to 21 per cent, while the farm value increased from 37 to 89 per cent. The output of the remaining five crops increased, in the same relation, from one half to 1 per cent to 20 per cent, while the farm value increased from 34 to 83 per cent.

The increase in the farm value of the crops was at a greater ratio than the increase in the prices of the staple commodities. For example, one thousand bushels of corn in 1910 would purchase greater quantities of all commodities by 54.4 per cent than in 1900, one thousand bushels of wheat greater quantities by 43.8 per cent, one thousand bales of cotton greater quantities by 63.4 per cent. One thousand bushels of corn would purchase in 1910 75.7 per cent more ton miles and 87.6 per cent more passenger miles than would one thousand bushels in 1900; one thousand bushels of wheat 65.8 per cent more ton miles and 77.1 per cent more passenger miles; one thousand bales of cotton 88.4 per cent more ton miles and 101.1 per cent more passenger miles.

Conversely, the purchasing power of the receipts from one thousand ton miles in 1910 of all commodities was 13.3 per cent less than that of one thousand ton miles in 1900, and the purchasing power of one thousand passenger miles was 18.8 per cent less.

BANKER OUT OF PRISON.

Pittsburg, March 28.—William Montgomery, former banker and prominent clubman of Pittsburg, was released today from the western penitentiary, where he had served about four and one-half years of a fifteen year sentence imposed upon him for misapplying the funds of the Allegheny National bank of this city, of which he was cashier. The bank failed in 1908 with a shortage of a million dollars. All losses have been repaid, and President Taft, as one of his last official acts, commuted Montgomery's fifteen year sentence on the ground that it was out of proportion to that imposed in similar cases.

C. P. & ST. L. LOSES TWO BRIDGES ON ACCOUNT OF HIGH WATER

Trestle Over Sangamon at Chandler-ville Nearly All Washed Away—Another at Petersburg Goes Out.

As a result of the high water along the Sangamon river the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad company has lost two bridges, one at Chandlerville and the other at Petersburg.

The trestle at Petersburg went out Thursday night and since that time trains have been running from Springfield to Athens and from Peoria down to Kibbourn on the main line. This makes a stretch of about 22 miles on the main line that is without train service.

A large force of workmen under General Superintendent W. C. Hurst is working on the bridge and the men expect to have it in condition that through service on the main line can be resumed to day.

A ferry-boat that was washed loose from its moorings farther up the river jammed into the trestle at Chandlerville and aided the drift wood and high water is almost completely destroying that structure. It is so badly damaged that it is thought a new bridge will have to be constructed. On account of this bridge being out the local passenger trains are running only as far as Chandlerville and it will probably be some time before through service can be resumed as they will have to wait until the water recedes before the bridge can be built.

ILLINOIS AT PEARL RISING.

Caldwell of the Caldwell-Nelson Engineering Company, was in communication with Pearl Friday evening, when he learned that the river at that place rose 2 inches Friday and that it is now 16.9 feet high. Sentenced by the grave diagnosis of physicians a year ago to die within one year, C. W. Morse, former ice king and banking magnate, was a notable figure in the Easter day parade on Fifth avenue, New York, mutely giving the laugh to his sentence. The banker received his freedom at the hands of President Taft about a year ago, when the physicians set forth that the prisoner would die in a short time if kept confined and could not possibly live out a year even enjoying his liberty. Mr. Morse traveled abroad and came back rehabilitated in health. While walking down Fifth ave. with a friend, as shown above on the left, Easter day the paroled convict appeared to be good for many years of life to come.

PRELIMINARY HEARING IS HAD IN EATON CASE

Trial of Wife of Rear Admiral Accused of Causing His Death Likely To Develop Sensations.

Boston, March 28.—The preliminary hearing of Mrs. May Harrison Eaton, who is accused of the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, U. S. N., retired, was conducted today at Hingham, but failed to develop anything new in the celebrated case. The hearing, in fact, was only a preliminary proceeding, since the action of the grand jury in finding an indictment sends the case directly to the superior court.

The extraordinary secrecy that has attended every step of the official investigation since Admiral Eaton died has only served to whet the public curiosity and arouse speculation as to what is at the bottom of the case. That the trial of Mrs. Eaton is likely to develop some big sensations is indicated by the statements of the officials who gathered the evidence that resulted in her arrest. These statements have all been to the same effect—that some of the facts disclosed as to the family life of the Eatons were so peculiar as to prevent the authorities from communicating them to the public.

It will be four weeks tomorrow since Admiral Eaton died suddenly at his country home near the little town of Norwell. During those four weeks there has been a constant rattling of the family skeleton in an effort to shed light on the cause and manner of his death. The coroner's jury reported that the admiral had died from arsenical poison. Thereupon the widow was arrested and lodged in jail at Plymouth to await trial on a charge of murder. These are the only real facts in the case made public. No hint has been dropped by the authorities as to the possible motive for the alleged crime. So far as public knowledge goes no murder—ever was committed with less motive for the deed. At one time Admiral Eaton was fairly well to do but unfortunate investments had cut him practically all of his fortune. At the time of his death he possessed practically nothing except his salary as a retired naval officer, which salary ceased with his death. Why his wife or any member of his family should take any steps that must necessarily cut off the chief source of their income seems incomprehensible.

Though the public has learned little in regards to the so-called murder case itself, much has been brought to light the past few days concerning the life story of the woman who stands accused of the killing of her husband.

The present Mrs. Eaton was the admiral's second wife and was formerly the wife of D. H. Ainsworth, once a clerk in the United States senate. They had two children, June and Dorothy, but their married life was not altogether happy, and Mrs. Ainsworth finally divorced her husband on the ground of drunkenness. She met Admiral Eaton, according to a story made by the admiral several years ago, in Chicago. He thought she was a widow, though as a matter of fact she had not at that time secured a divorce. Her father was George Harrison, and the family home was at Alexandria, Va.

Admiral Eaton and Mrs. Ainsworth were married in 1907 and came to Massachusetts to live. The admiral was commandant of the Boston navy yard and after his retirement from the service the family went to live on a small farm at Assinippi. During the last few years of his life the admiral had given up his clubs and forsaken society altogether, devoting his attention to the raising of chickens.

As to the family life of the Eatons the statements of neighbors and friends seem widely at variance. All seem to agree, however, that the admiral appeared to be unhappy in mind and at times exceedingly morose. A story has been circulated to the effect that Mrs. Eaton, after her second marriage, continued to supply her first husband with money and that this was a cause for family discord. Mrs. Eaton, however, vigorously denies the truth of this story. Much more tangible is the story concerning the Eaton baby, whose sudden death undoubtedly severed, for a time at least, the friendly relations of the admiral and his wife.

Nearly four years ago the child died under unusual circumstances. It developed then that it was an adopted child and that a quiet deception had been practised upon relatives and friends concerning its birth and antecedents. Mrs. Eaton openly charged that the child had been poisoned and she suspected the admiral. An analysis of the stomach showed that the child had died from natural causes and a reconciliation followed between the admiral and Mrs. Eaton.

A belief is gaining ground that Mrs. Eaton may never be tried for murder. The theory is that alienists will be sent to examine her as to her mental condition. Then she may be given a public hearing as to her sanity, and finally, if it should be determined that she is of unsound mind she might be confined in an institution.

Chicago, March 28.—What is claimed by its promoters to be the greatest commercial selling campaign ever organized is now in progress and will culminate during the coming week, which has been designated by manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers as "Canned Food Week." The enterprise is led by a co-operation of five large national organizations. These are the National Wholesale Grocers' association, the National Canners' association and the National Canned Goods Brokers' association. Campaign headquarters are located in this city, where it was reported that practically every retail grocery store in the United States will be a display room for canned goods next week.

NOTES FROM LABOR WORLD

There are 722,335 coal miners in the United States.

The trades and labor council of Nelson, B. C., is planning the erection of a labor temple to cost $20,000. Reports from cities in all parts of the country indicate that there will be a great deal of building done this year.

The United Mine Workers' organization of Iowa is planning the creation of a legal department to prosecute personal injury cases of members.

A bulletin by the department of agriculture states that wages paid to field laborers in this country have increased 3.2 per cent last year and 1 per cent during the last two years.

Great city improvements now in progress have caused a scarcity of help in Pittsburgh, Pa. It is reported that ten thousand workmen, mostly laborers and workers in the building trades are needed.

Reports from the Painters' International union show that something like $15,000 a month was paid in 1912 to beneficiaries of deceased members, and other thousands were disbursed in sick claims and funeral benefits.

The International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees has purchased two buildings for headquarters in Detroit, Mich. One building will house the printing plant, the other the business office of the union.

At the next Trades Union congress in Great Britain a movement will be inaugurated for the establishment of a trades union bank on co-operative lines, and the projectors have no doubt that the enterprise will take definite steps.

There are approximately two thousand five hundred women employed at night work in Utica, N. Y., factories, and they receive from $8 to $10 a week. They are obliged to report at 7 o'clock at night and work until 6 o'clock in the morning.

A referendum vote taken on the question of electing officers of the Iowa State Federation by referendum delegates in the Iowa State Federation for a number of years have advocated the referendum plan of electing officers.

Announcement has been made that the International Typographical union is soon to erect an addition to the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Colo., at a cost of $50,000. The work of erection will be started soon and the new building will be used as an amusement hall.

Prices of farm products have fallen in Little Rock, Ark., owing to the advent of the Farmers' union as a factor in the local grocery trade. The Little Rock store was a success from the day it started, and it is probable that the Farmers' union will open stores in other cities of Arkansas.

The labor temple at Vancouver, British Columbia, recently erected, and which, with the land on which it stands, represents an outlay of more than a quarter of a million dollars, is owned by the organized labor of Vancouver, the trades and labor council carrying the controlling interest.

Thousands of Women

Have Been Restored to Health By Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is no doubt about this fact. Why? during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—
"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—
"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—
"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 25 Glor Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ERUPTION LIKE
PIMPLES ON FACE

Developed Into Sores. Would Almost Scratch Himself Raw. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Completely Cured Him.

Watson, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw."

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now. I also used Cuticura Ointment on the older children's heads and find it leaves the hair soft and silky." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

DESCRIBES FLOOD

MRS. JOHN J. McCABE WRITES OF
CONDITIONS AT HER OLD HOME.

Former Jacksonville Resident Gives
Graphic Description of Terrors
Resulting From Raging of Waters—
Large Part of Town Is Submerged.

The following letter was received by Mrs. George K. Moore from her mother, Mrs. John J. McCabe of Delaware, Ohio: Mrs. McCabe was Miss Effie E. Capps of this city before her marriage.

Delaware, Ohio, March 25, 1913. The most terrible things have happened in the last twenty-four hours. It has been raining for three or four days, very hard, and last night the river (Olenkangy) rose and a large part of the town is submerged. Spring street is a river, and the water is up to the second story windows. On Main street the business houses are completely under water. The second floor and the third floor of the Gazette office is under water. A number of people have been drowned, among them a young girl who clerked in the New York Cash Store, and in whom I have been particularly interested. She went to bed last night, with no thought of danger, and was carried away by the flood in the night. Other people in the house were also drowned. I never expect to have such experiences as I have had to day (Tuesday). I spent the whole morning watching the rescue work and helping what I could. The little street down by the College campus, where the houses face the Delaware river, is flooded and the water is up to the second story windows. Boats and rafts are sent across to the people from just below Merrick Hall. Looking south from the campus it seems like a vast lake. The Big Four bridge is down, and many people spent last night on the roofs of their houses, while we slept comfortably, unconscious of danger. We had a W. C. T. U. reception last night, and prepared for about two hundred guests, only about half of that number came on account of the rain, so we had four or five gallons of coffee left. Papa carried it over to the campus, built a fire out doors, and warmed it up, and we fed the rescued and rescuers. The gas is gone (natural for heating) also electric lights, and city water. It was very pitiful to see people who came in the boats from East Delaware. They were chilled from watching all night, in fear of their lives, and hungry, and weeping because their homes had been swept away, or, in some cases, because their friends had been drowned. You could not believe that Delaware could have such a flood. It is still raining and I suppose that water is still rising. They said, this afternoon, that it was falling, but about five o'clock it began to pour again, and seems to have settled for an all night rain. The Duers have two strangers tonight, who are homeless and out next door neighbors have nine. The next will come us. Late this afternoon there were still people waiting at upstairs windows, and on roofs, and in trees. Think what it must be tonight and no light. The militia was called out to help. They telegraphed to Cleveland for boats, but they have not come yet. Wallace Morrison distinguished himself by walking across a telephone wire, with a bag of food tied around his waist for a family which was cut off from supplies by water. He held on to another wire, but, as he was pretty high up, and the current below very swift, it was a brave thing to do. There is no telling what tomorrow may bring forth, if this rain continues all night. I don't think it can reach us, although there it water in our cellar, up to the first floor.

Delaware is quite a hilly town, and the Wesleyan University is on high ground, as is Mr. McCabe's home; only the latter is on somewhat lower ground. The university is a large, co-educational institution. There are about 1800 students.

TAXES! TAXES!!

TO PROSECUTE TRAIN HOPPERS.
For some time the local officials of the Burlington have been annoyed by train hoppers in the local yards, and it is said that not only boys but men are offenders. E. F. Mitchell, the local agent, in regard to the matter said that the state laws provide for a jail sentence of seven days for hopping freight trains and that he would not hesitate in prosecuting offenders to the limit.

REPUBLICANS WILL HONOR NEW SENATOR.
Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman will be the speaker at a jollification in his honor to be held by the Republicans of Sangamon county at the circuit court room tonight. Charles W. Ryers, chairman of the Republican county central committee, John Hose, chairman of the city committee, and Lawrence Y. Lynn, chairman of the township committee, have issued a call urging all Republicans to attend the meeting. Its purpose is the congratulation of the new senator on his election.

F. E. Walling, a farmer living near Yukon, Mo., strongly recommends Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and says: "I have been advised by my family doctor to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children when there was a cough medicine needed. It always gives the best of satisfaction and I recommend it to others." City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.

W. R. C. HELD INTERESTING
SESSION TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Inez Bender, a Department Inspector, Made an Address.

The Woman's Relief corps No. 109 met in stated session Friday afternoon at their rooms in G. A. R. hall on West Morgan street. There was a good number in attendance and after the regular routine of the meeting had come to a conclusion the members had the pleasure of listening to an address from Mrs. Inez J. Bender of Decatur, who was present as a guest. Mrs. Bender spoke at length upon the good of the order and as she is a department inspector for the order she was capable of giving not only an interesting but instructive address. Her remarks were well received and were frequently interrupted by the applause of her listeners. Following the address one of the delayed birthday socials was held and mostly heartily enjoyed. The pleasure of the occasion was heightened by the presence of Mrs. Bender, who is a candidate for the position of department president at the next election and who made many warm friends among the members present. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Angie Weber, Mrs. S. B. Gray, Mrs. Mary Dunavan, Mrs. Anna Vieira and Mrs. Martha Day. Refreshments were passed and a pleasant hour was spent in social conversation.

No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Jacksonville citizen.

W. E. Allen, 627 S. Prairie St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly recommended them in 1909 holds goods. I have had no kidney trouble since then. I had pains in the small of my back and through my sides, especially when I was standing. The trouble seemed to make me feel all tired out. ## THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

UPTURN IN STOCK MARKET RESUMED

SEVERAL IMPORTANT STOCKS MAKE GAIN OF TWO POINTS OR MORE.

Copper Stocks Were Helped by Improving Tendency of the Metal Market—Exports For Month Are Largest on Record.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, March 28.—The upturn in the stock market cut short by the floods after making considerable headway was resumed today. Prices rose smartly in all quarters, such important stocks as Reading, Union Pacific and Amalgamated gaining two points or more. It was felt that the worst had been told of the flood disaster, and there was a disposition to dismiss it as an active market factor.

London bought moderately here, chiefly Canadian Pacific and the copper stocks. The copper stocks were helped by the improving tendency of the metal market. Exports for the month to date are the largest on record. Another favorable bank statement is indicated for tomorrow. Bonds were irregular with some of the Pacific and southern lines heavy.

OLD TAHITI

The Love of a South Sea Maid.

A Beautiful Story of the South Sea Islands

This picture was produced in Tahiti, and is based on an episode which actually occurred soon after the island came under French domination seventy years ago (1842). It gives a wonderful realistic illustration of the beautiful scenery of Tahiti as described by the French author, Piere Loti, in his work, "The Marriage of Loti."

Teria, the daughter of a great chief, Hoatu-Aru, chief of Tahiti, falls in love with a young midshipman of a French vessel, and implores her father to secure him for a husband. Hoatu-Aru endeavors to procure the midshipman in exchange for one of his warriors, and, failing in this, takes him by force. The French officer, though a prisoner, comes to love the beautiful native girl and accepts her proposal of marriage. His fellow officers, alarmed, send out an expedition for the midshipman, and, by a plea to his loyalty to his country, tear him away from Teria, with only her last, broken-hearted gift—a flower, with which to remember the sweetest experience in his existence.

WHITE HOUSE HAS COST LARGE SUM

Rebuilt and Greatly Improved Since Erection in 1792—First Structure Burned by British in 1814, Connected With Romantic Reign of "Dolly" Madison—Rebuilt in 1818.

Washington, March 28.—Pres. Wilson's new home—the white house—has a history that reads like fiction. Built in 1792, it was destroyed by fire by British troops in 1814, and rebuilt again in 1818. It has housed every president in the United States save Washington, and despite its century age, is still one of the most impressive buildings in the city of magnificent structures.

On March 14, 1792, the government advertised for a competition of architects to design plan for a "president's home." James Hoban, a young Irishman, won the prize of $500 by his plans. He was engaged at the munificent salary of 100 guineas a year to superintend the construction of the future white house. On October 13, 1792, President George Washington, acting as grand master of the Alexandria, Va., lodge of Masons, laid the corner stone of the structure.

Completed After Eight Years.—It was desired to push the construction work with all possible haste, but there was difficulty in raising funds for the work, and according to letters of Mrs. John Adams, wife of the second president, the building was not completed and made ready for occupancy until 1800. Up to that time the building and furnishing of the president's home had cost the nation about $335,000.

Hoban's original plans contemplated the extension of Pennsylvania avenue direct through what is the south park of the executive mansion. What under the restoration of the building is the front of the white house was originally designed by Hoban as its rear entrance. He supposed that the structure would face to the south, overlooking a broad avenue, and so provided a spacious portico and splendid approach. When Pennsylvania avenue was changed and made to circle around the spot where the treasury building is now located, and pass the white house on the north, it was necessary to put up another fine portico with great Ionic columns.

Originally it was intended that all the government buildings should be erected south of the white house, between it and the Potomac river. However, much of this ground was lowland and engineers soon discovered that foundations would be too costly. The plan was, therefore, abandoned.

Burned by British in 1814.—The British captured Washington in 1814 and applied the torch to many of the public buildings. Mrs. Madison—the "Dolly Madison"—of romantic history—did not leave the executive mansion until the enemy had nearly entered the city, and when she departed, she hastily filled her carriage with state papers and the famous Stuart portrait of Washington. A few minutes later the red coats fired the white house. When the president and Mrs. Madison returned their dwelling was only a blackened mass of ruins.

Congress immediately appropriated $200,000 for rebuilding of the structure and James Hoban, the original architect was commissioned with the supervision of the task. On New Year's day, 1818, it was again occupied, a reception being held to the public.

It appears that having rebuilt the white house, congress almost forgot about it for a long period of years. Very little was appropriated for furnishings. It was not until Van Buren became president that any real expenditure of money was made for proper appointments at the president's home. Van Buren was roundly criticized in congress for extravagance. In Zachary Taylor's occupancy of the white house the spacious East room was completely changed. It was carpeted, redecorated and the wonderful glass chandeliers or gas fixtures installed. These same fixtures, with their myriads of prisms, were removed a few years ago, and now sparkle in the light of electricity. During Fillmore's administration the oval "sitting room"—now the "Blue Room," where the president received on the occasion of public functions—was changed into a library. Mrs. Fillmore herself selected the books.

Enlarged and Renovated.—Then came the civil war, with troops on duty at the white house. It presented a forlorn appearance; the fine floors and furniture were scratched and injured by sentries and the furniture made dingy and disreputable. Martha Patterson, eldest daughter of President Johnson, superintended the work of renovation in 1866, congress having appropriated $30,000 for this purpose. In 1869 the building was again refurbished from top to bottom. Glass conservatories were added to the west side by President Arthur. Mrs. Cleveland enlarged these, but in 1902 they were done away with in the most complete bit of work done around the ancient structure since its restoration. Nearly $565,000 was spent to strengthen the foundations of the building, the floors, walls, etc., and for construction of executive offices and a long corridor through which the public might pass on occasions of public receptions.

Muddy Complexion.—When you see a woman with a muddy or sallow complexion and dull eyes, you may know that her liver is out of order. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will correct it and make her look better and feel better. For sale by all dealers.

THE TEMPERATURES.—The temperatures for Friday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexandria were: maximum 46, minimum 21.

THE BIRTH RECORD.—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Carpenter near Sinclair, a nine pound son.

FATHER AND SON ARE EXECUTED

PAY PENALTY FOR THEIR PART IN MURDER OF COURT OFFICIALS.

Aged Leader of Outlaw Allen Band in Carroll County Goes to Death Terribly Unnerved by Delay—Claude Allen Meets Death Stoically

RICHMOND, VA., MARCH 28.—Two men today paid the extreme penalty provided by law for their part in the sensational murder of court officials here a year ago. They were Claude Swanson Allen and Floyd Allen, father and son, their execution taking place in the state penitentiary.

Floyd Allen, the reputed leader of the outlaw band in Carroll county, was the first one executed. The aged prisoner, terribly unnerved by the excitement incident to the delay of six hours in carrying out the sentence, went to the chair at 1:20 o'clock. He was pronounced dead at 1:26.

The prison guards next brought Claude Swanson Allen, son of Floyd, into the death chamber at 1:30 o'clock. He was executed at 1:35.

Floyd Allen and his son Claude are the only Hillsville gunmen who have paid the death penalty for the Carroll county court house murders a year ago. They were electrocuted after a dramatic eleven-hour attempt to save them had been thwarted by Governor Mann unexpectedly returning to Virginia from New Jersey. Friends of the condemned men were besieging Lieut. Gov. Elyse for a reprieve. The lieutenant governor requested the superintendent of the penitentiary to postpone the executions until an opinion could be rendered on the question of the constitutionality of a reprieve if issued by the lieutenant governor. Governor Mann's return to the state nullified any proposed action by the lieutenant governor.

Crime Committed Year Ago.—The execution of Floyd Allen and his son Claude Swanson Allen, sentenced to die in the electric chair, marked the first blow of justice upon the notorious Allen clansmen whose lawlessness for years held the natives of the Virginia mountains in terror and culminated early last year in the shooting up of the Carroll county court when five persons lost their lives. The news of the crime sent a thrill of horror throughout the nation and the shocked Virginia authorities moved expeditiously to bring the criminals to justice.

On the morning of March 14, Floyd Allen stood before the bar of the Carroll county court house at Hillsville, to receive sentence for his part in adding the escape of another mountaineer from the custody of the sheriff. A crowd packed the little court room for the character of the prisoner was well known. Members of the Allen family were known to be in court and trouble was thought imminent.

The jury having announced a verdict of guilty Judge Thornton Massie sentenced the prisoners to one year at hard labor. With the last word of the sentence, a crash of fire arms broke from the spectators' benches. Floyd Allen, the prisoner, with a smoking revolver in his hand leaped from the prisoner's dock and joined the rush of the gang toward the door.

Two Hundred Shots Fired.—The body of Judge Massie, riddled with bullets, was found lying over his desk; Commonwealth Attorney William M. Foster and Sheriff L. F. Webb lay dead on the floor; Augustus Fowler, a juror, and Elizabeth Ayres, a spectator, were bleeding from wounds which proved fatal the next day; and Dexter Goad, clerk of the court, shot through the neck. Goad was one of the principal witnesses for the state at the conviction of the prisoners.

When the courtroom was cleared the jury room was examined later it was found that more than 200 shots had been fired. Twenty-seven shots took effect upon those killed or wounded. An army of detectives and newspaper correspondents soon were scouring the muddy roads of the mountains in search for the prisoners. Floyd Allen, the cause of the shooting who had been wounded by Sheriff Webb in the courtroom was taken the day of the crime, together with his son Victor Allen and his nephew Bird Marion.

Sidna Edwards, a nephew of the Allen brothers was captured in a hut in the mountains March 2. Edwards who is lame, had eaten nothing for several days and was very weak when found. Claude Swanson Allen, another son of Floyd Allen, walked up to a posse of the mountaineers and surrendered himself on March 28. The next day Friel Allen youngest member of the gang was taken at his father's home.

Floyd Allen, charged specifically with the killing of Commonwealth Attorney Foster, was found guilty of first degree murder on May 17, and sentenced to death. Claude Allen, his son, was tried on a charge of killing Judge Massie, and convicted of murder in the second degree. The jury recommended a sentence of fifteen years in the penitentiary. The state demanded a new trial and a verdict of guilty in the first degree was returned on July 27 and he was sentenced to death.

Friel Allen pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree and on August 14 was sentenced to 18 years in prison. Three days later Sidna Edwards pleaded guilty to a like charge and was given a sentence of 15 years. Victor Allen was acquitted of a charge of having participated in the murders.

Sidna Allen, brother of Floyd Allen and recognized leader of the clan and his nephew Wesley Edwards, eluded pursuit for many weeks, and eventually escaped out of the Virginia mountains and made their way west. They were captured at Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 14, as the result of a love affair of young Edwards. A letter from him was lost by Maude Iroler of Mount Airy, N. C., and detectives followed its information and captured the two men.

Sidna Allen was placed on trial November 11 at Wytheville, Va., charged with the murder of Judge Massie.

When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated traveltogue on "Panama" at Orchestra hall, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by continual coughing of the audience. No one annoys willingly and if people with coughs, colds, hoarseness and tickling in throat would use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their coughs and colds and avoid this annoyance. ## RULES OF COMPETITION

Competition open to any boy residing in Morgan county who was between the ages of 12 and 18 on the first day of March, 1913.

Corn must be grown on land in Morgan county. No boy except a member of the Boys' Corn Club shall compete for any prize. No prize will be awarded any boy who does not comply with all the conditions of the contest and make all required reports.

Membership in the Boys' Corn Club can be had by signing the application card furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture and agreeing to study the instructions furnished, to keep accurate record of the work, expense and receipts of the acre and make a complete report of the same. Membership application cards may be obtained of any bank in Morgan county or of any member of the Executive Committee of the Department of Rural Affairs of the Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville.

The names of applicants for membership in the Boys' Corn Club will be enrolled in the U. S. Department of Agriculture which will furnish periodically bulletins and literature on corn growing and forms for financial report. Each contestant must plan his own crop and do his own work. The acre must be carefully measured and the corn must be gathered in the presence of two disinterested persons who must certify the measurements.

Each contestant must exhibit ten ears of his corn at a time and place to be set and announced later and must gather his corn and complete his reports and file them with the chairman of the Department of Rural Affairs on or before December 1st, 1913. Prizes for the best acres will be awarded on the following basis:

Greatest yield	30 points
Best showing of profit based on commercial price of corn for seed	30 points
Best exhibit of ten ears	30 points
Best written history entitled "How I Made My Crop of Corn"	20 points

An accurate and complete account of the cost of the acre must be kept and reported. This must show the cost of planting, cultivating and gathering the corn under separate items. For the purpose of uniformity in accounting the cost must be estimated as follows: The rent of the acre, $5.00; boy's labor at 10 cents an hour; the time of each horse at 5 cents an hour; barayard manure at $2.00 for a two-horse load and at $1.00 for a one-horse load; all other fertilizers at actual cost; seed corn at cost.

BOYS' MEETING

A meeting will be held at the Court House in Jacksonville on Friday April 18th, 1913, (the date of the County Teachers' Institute) at 12 o'clock noon for the purpose of explaining to farmer boys teachers and others interested the conditions of this contest. All interested are invited to attend.

The Department of Rural Affairs earnestly solicits the co-operation of the farmers, land-owners, teachers, bankers and others interested in country life in inducing the boys to enter this contest and make it a success. The prizes offered are not all that the contestants will get from this contest. The contestants will get a practical training which will be worth much to them in after life. The prize winners will probably find a ready sale for much of their corn at advanced prices. The farms on which large yields are produced, the communities which furnish prize winners, should benefit thereby.

HAD OFFER OF $130,000 FOR THEIR RAILROAD PROPERTY

Springfield and Jacksonville Company Declined Proposition Made to Them a Few Months Since—Acceptance Would Have Meant Speedy Completion of the Road.

A well known Jacksonville citizen was in Springfield yesterday and in conversation with one of the most prominent bankers of that city learned that the Springfield & Jacksonville Electric Railroad Co., a few months since received an offer of $130,000 for their right of way, trackage, culverts etc., and refused the offer. At that time the road wanted $50,000 more and the sale did not materialize. The banker said: "Well I am really surprised that electric cars are not running between Jacksonville and Springfield. They would have been had the Springfield & Jacksonville Electric railroad people seen fit to accept the offer of $130,000 made them for their holdings. They wanted $50,000 more in addition and so no agreement was reached. Money is tighter now and I do not think it all likely that anything will be done about the matter in the immediate future."

GAVE BENEFIT CONCERT

Choir of Central Christian Church Repeats Cantata—the Proceeds for the Flood Sufferers.

The well known cantata "The King of Glory" by Peace was given Friday night by the choir of the Central Christian church, the proceeds to go toward the fund for helping needy in the floods recent Indiana and Ohio. Only a fair size audience was present, on account of several other gatherings having been scheduled for last night. The proceeds were about $30.

The cantata was the one given Sunday evening and those taking the solo parts were Mrs. A. L. Roberts, Mrs. Abe Welch, Loren Cannon and Prof. G. W. Gore. The choir of Brooklyn M. E. church also gave the same cantata Sunday night and several members from that church contributed not a little to the evening of song. The music was especially fine and the choir under the capable leadership of J. Philip Read deserves credit for the success of the entertainment.

Relatives in the city have received a copy of the "Third Flood Extra," issued by the Delaware Daily Gazette of Delaware, Ohio, from Mrs. McCabe. Delaware is a city of 4,076 population and the Bulletin, an evening paper, has a circulation of 1,701. The extra consists of a four column single sheet, printed on one side, and was issued Wednesday noon. In addition to giving a brief summary of the flood situation in Ohio and stating that Dayton is the greatest sufferer in the flood, the Bulletin reports that the rainfall in Delaware from Monday until Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock was 6.75 inches, according to the government register. A plea for clothing and bedding of all kinds for flood sufferers is also printed and the residents are warned to use caution against fire and to boil all water to guard against an epidemic of typhoid. The bulletin also states that the local situation was well in hand Wednesday and that all marooned families had been rescued.

MISS JACKSON SPEAKS ON BIRDS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Tells of the Charms of Birds—Study Scores Women For Wearing Feathers—Personal Experiences With Birds.

The library series of literary evenings was closed last night by one of the most entertaining and instructive lectures of the series. "The Birds are here Again" by Miss Annie W. Jackson. That every one of the good sized audience present went away with a heightened appreciation of this subject goes without saying. Miss Jackson is an expert in her line and has the rare quality of putting specialized knowledge in entertaining form.

"There is a fascination about it quite overpowering," said Miss Jackson when dwelling on the charms of bird study. "Do you know the song of the blue bird? The sound which John Burroughs calls 'The wondering voice'?" One goes out some cold day in March when the frost is still in the air to be greeted by this delightful bird song which tells that Spring is again returning. The large sparrow family the members of which so many mistakenly think look alike and the numerous warbler family, so difficult to study, were among the families of common birds discussed.

Bird Study From Books.
Although it is by observation that most bird study must be done, the books on the subject are by no means to be despised. One of the best of these is Chapman's "Handbook of the Birds of North America." John Burroughs cannot be too strongly recommended. All statements he makes are dependable. Olive Thorne Miller and Bradford are good authors. "How to Attract the Birds" and "The Story of the Birds," are two works suitable for beginners in this interesting subject.

The study of those interpreters of nature and her beauties, the poets will lead one to an increased appreciation of birds. Six hundred references to birds occur in the works of Shakespeare. The poetry of the great nature poet Wordsworth would be sadly lacking without reference to the tribe of feathered songsters. A love for birds seems to be inherent in the human race. It is remarkable how many characteristics they have in common with human attributes.

The Heartlessness of Women.
"The heartless and thoughtlessness of women in requiring the death of numberless innocent birds for personal adornment cannot be too strongly condemned. It is so-called tender hearted woman that is responsible for the birds that 'are not here again and never will be here again.' A woman who is a true bird lover will take more delight in seeing a living bird, happy and useful, than in possessing the most beautiful plumage for her hat."

"The cause for the birds has been well put by a world-famed zoologist, William T. Hornaday of New York. He describes the enormities of the tropical bird hunters who practice nameless cruelties to supply the wholesale plumage trade of London and Paris. No woman who thinks can indulge in a taste which means mother birds killed and their young left to die. Birds slowly starved to death to save labor in preparation of plumage, and others with wings wrenched off and left to die from loss of blood. Some of the world's most beautiful species have been almost entirely exterminated as the bird of paradise of the East Indies, the lyre bird, of Australia, and the heron of Florida which produces the famous 'eggs'."

Personal Experiences.
"People who long for the 'care free life of a bird' are far from the truth. The price of the life of a bird is constant vigilance. I have some idea of the trouble a bird has in raising its young for young birds I have raised myself. A young robin will devour from sixty to seventy meal worms a day. Its certainly a delightful occupation taking a spade and trying to supply the want of a voracious young robin or thrush or sparrow."

Miss Jackson closed by narratives of birds she had raised. "Two of the brown thrashers, some sparrows she obtained from the grounds of the blind institution, and a bird she bought for a penny one time from a small boy."

It's time to discard that winter cap. Knobs is showing a nice line of spring hats.

D. ALTON TOPLIFF DIES AT PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

Well Known Business Man and Former Mayor of Franklin Passes Away at the Age of 59 Years—Funeral Monday Afternoon.

D. Alton Topliff, a prominent citizen of Franklin, died Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at Passavant hospital of endo corditis. He was a former mayor and alderman of Franklin and at the last Democratic primary was named as a candidate for the office of alderman. He was brought to the hospital last Saturday and his condition has been serious since that time. Mr. Topliff had not been a well man for several months, and a year ago last February had an operation performed at the hospital.

The passing away of Mr. Topliff removes one of Franklin's most upright and widely known citizens. For over forty-two years he had worked at his trade of wheelwright and cabinet maker, and there was nothing in his line of work with which he was not familiar. Perhaps no man in the state of Illinois was more proficient as a woodworker and only the best he could produce left his hands. He took a great interest in the government of his own town. He was mayor for two or three terms, a member of the town board for several terms and at present was a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the office of alderman. He was a man of strong convictions for that which was right and honorable and being of a genial disposition and kindly disposed to everyone his friendships were many and all loved him for the big heart he possessed and for his worth as a public spirited citizen. He was a member of the Christian church and was interested in every department of church work, being superintendent of the Sunday school at the time of his death.

He was born in Ohio, July, 1853, and some years later the family moved to Indiana and after a short residence there, came on to Illinois, settling at Glasgow, Scott county. In 1871 the family moved to Franklin, where Mr. Topliff has since followed his chosen occupation.

He was married June 1, 1898, to Miss Alice Carrick, who survives him and one son, Leonard Oliver, aged 8 years. He also leaves two brothers, Ladore of Franklin and Hoadley Topliff of Alton, and one sister, Mrs. Clara Skeens of Franklin, who is now seriously ill at Passavant hospital.

The remains were taken to Williamson & Cody's undertaking parlors, where they were prepared for burial and this morning at 7 o'clock will be taken via the Burlington to Franklin. Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Christian church in charge of Rev. J. E. Teany. Interment will be made in the Franklin cemetery.

Always reliable, the clothing at Knoles.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE ALUMNI ORGANIZE

HELD DINNER FRIDAY NIGHT AT COLONIAL INN.

Dr. Black is Chosen Head of New Organization—Will Seek to Aid Alma Mater—Rev. H. D. French Tells of Spirit and Work at Amherst—Other Speakers.

A company of forty or more Illinois college alumni and former students gathered at the Colonial Inn Friday evening. A. T. Capps, president of the Illinois College Alumni association, called for order and Dr. Hayden spoke a word of prayer. A dinner was then served in good Colonial Inn style.

President Capps stated the reason for the meeting as being for the purpose of arousing a more active interest in the college and college affairs and the perfecting of an organization of local alumni and former students of the college and the election of the necessary officers. He thanked the committee, consisting of Walter Bellatti and Ralph Dunlap, for making the necessary arrangements for the meeting and the splendid menu.

Officers Elected. There being no dissenting voice President Capps called for nominations for president of the society. Mr. Bellatti nominated Dr. Black, class of '83, and he was elected by unanimous vote. Judge Barnes then nominated J. B. Beekman, '65, for vice-president, and he was duly elected. William Goebel, '03, was then elected secretary-treasurer. The society thus organized invited all former students and alumni of both college and Whipple Academy to membership.

Advantage of Alumni Fund. Chairman Capps then introduced Rev. H. D. French, who spoke of the organizations among the alumni of Amherst college in part as follows: "I do believe the alumni of Amherst have accomplished a great deal for the college. I do not know what the college would have done without the alumni. We have an alumni fund which has now been running for about fifteen years and has grown to $2500, but this sum has not been turned over to the college, as it was decided to wait until the sum of $100,000 was in hand. Each class at their annual reunion plan to do specific things for the good of the college. The class of '84 offered $100 as a prize in competitive singing among the classes, such contests taking place at commencement time. If any class gave an original song it was given additional credit. My class is raising a fund to endow a chair in mathematics for a professor who has done much for the college and who is very dear to us. Now this spirit of competition in doing specific things has resulted in raising the standard of the college very materially and in more exacting requirements for graduation. The class of '33 made a study of other colleges and grounds and drew up plans for campus and college buildings with the result that these plans are to be adopted for Amherst college.

The Old Well at Amherst. "At Amherst we have the Old College Well and at each commencement time the classes each have a booth and at a given time the senior class begins a song and starts toward a designated part of the campus. The other classes follow, singing. Then all are seated on the ground and loving cups are passed filled with water from the old college well. The cup being first given to the seniors by the president.

"When a class reunion or alumni society holds a reunion away from the college a loving cup and a keg of water from the old well are sent to them and so dear has this custom become that tears come to my eyes on such occasions because of fond memories of college days.

"I am a firm believer in the small college. Would much prefer to send my boy to a small college.

Other Speakers. Dr. Black then gave a stereopticon talk on the "First Medical School in Illinois." This lecture was given by Dr. Black at the Chicago alumni banquet and aroused great interest there as it did last night.

Vice President J. B. Beekman was then called upon. He stated that just fifty two years ago this date he first entered Illinois college, and spoke of some interesting things which happened to him while a student in the college.

Dr. J. T. Pitner, Captain Kirby, W. D. McCormick and Wilfred Ayers each spoke briefly of incidents of college life.

Dr. Rammelskamp Spoke.

Dr. Rammelskamp being called upon expressed his gratification for the successful organizing of this local society and that he was sure it would mean much to the college. He stated that in the report to the meeting of the North Central association in Chicago last week that in this state three universities, Chicago, Northwestern, and Illinois and five colleges, Knox, Lake Forest, Monmouth, Augustana and Illinois college were the only ones to meet the requirements of the association. He spoke of the interest taken in the college by the societies in New York, Chicago and St. Louis and expressed a feeling of confidence in the future prosperity of the college.

Those present: Dr. T. J. Pitner, Judge C. A. Barnes, S. A. Capps, Chas. Rowe, Wilfred Ayers, Rev. H. D. French, A. T. Capps, Dr. Black, Prof. Clark, Prof. Tanner, Ralph Dunlap, Wm. Goebel, Dr. A. E. ## WINS IN DEBATE AND DECLAMATION

WHIPPLE ACADEMY WINS OVER MILLIKIN ACADEMY.

Fist Contest by Sister Preparatory Schools Brings Victory to Local Representatives—Feast Held at Batz' Cafe.

In the first contest in debate and declamation between Whipple Academy and the Academy of James Millikin university, held Friday evening in Jones Memorial Building Whipple Academy representatives won both contests, being given unanimous decisions by the judges. The winner of the declamation contest was Miss Helen McDonald whose subject was: "Who's Afraid."

The debate was won easily by the Whipple contestants. The negative side lost because their representatives did not advance any consistent arguments. They gave a large number of facts about the tariff, but failed to certify their positions well.

The visitors, although they lost all around, proved good losers and took the defeat in a splendid spirit. After the contests the teams and declaimers went to Batz' Cafe where a banquet was served and speeches were made by Bliss Irwin, Clay Apple, C. C. Wells and Prof. R. C. Hiett. The team from Decatur was accompanied by Deral Bartlett, Clarence Schien, Miss Helen Beall and Prof. C. C. Wells.

Dr. Riffin Tanner was the presiding officer and the following was the program:

Music—College orchestra. Invocation—Rev. L. H. Davis. "Green Gables"—Vincent Cromwell, Whipple.

From "Bird's Christmas Carol"—Pearl Cole, Millikin.

"Who's Afraid?"—Helen McDonald, Whipple.

"The Rising of '76"—Evalene Satterthwaite, Millikin.

Music.

Question For Debate.

Resolved: That the United States should continue the policy of protection to American industries.

Affirmative, Whipple—Clay R. Apple, Henry D. Hinton.

Negative, Millikin—Bliss Irwin, Clarence Hammet.

Rebuttal—Henry Hinton, Clay Apple, Bliss Irwin, Clarence Hammet.

The judges were: Prof. I. P. Rink, Canton; Prof. A. E. Doolittle, Carrollton; Prof. R. C. Hiett, Bushnell.
